FOREWORD

We, the Seniors have compiled and edited this book to bring to you a record of our activities as well as reminiscences that will continue to blend with pleasant memories through the coming years.

NEW TREND

MISS MURCH — 10th grade adviser, Counsellor.
MR. ROBERTS — 11th grade adviser, Chairman Enrollment Committee.
MISS BAMBER — 12th grade adviser.
MISS SMITH — 9th grade adviser.

TREND OF THE TIMES

The Guidance Program of the Maplewood-Richmond Heights High School

The purpose of the guidance program is to help pupils take the maximum advantage of their opportunities while in school and to assist them in a better understanding of themselves, their aptitudes and abilities, thus bridging the gap between high school and what is to follow.

A few of the desirable things the new guidance program should help us to do better than we have done before are listed below:

1. Testing program with beneficial interpretation.
2. More intensive work on pupils' high school programs.
3. Guidance with incoming freshmen.
4. Accurate records for each pupil to be available for teachers and guidance workers.
5. Work with the St. Louis County Guidance Council.
6. Vocational guidance and college guidance for seniors and others.
7. Close touch with parents and with community agencies to help youth solve their problems.
8. Helping pupils find jobs when they finish school.

Such a program will inevitably be an invaluable asset to our school.

G. E. DILLE

It is to the credit of the Maplewood-Richmond Heights School Board that it has employed and supported men as administrators whose aim it is to keep our school in a ranking position among institutions of its kind.

Mr. Dille and Mr. Adams, with the assistance of Mr. Vossbrink, have pursued a course of progressiveness in education, and are to be particularly praised for the splendid guidance program being initiated. We wish to extend our appreciation for their interest and sympathetic attitude toward student problems.

BOOK ONE

Within these pages will be found an account of our class in its progress through the year. Reading between the lines, you will detect a fusing of pleasure in our associations and reluctance at leaving. Four years ago we established our goals, and now we are taking one more step toward their attainment.

OUR SENIORS

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

It is this group of able seniors who plan and work out any and all problems the graduating class might have. They deserve the credit for making their senior year a success.

With the problems of selecting a suitable class ring, making the necessary arrangements for the great event of the year (namely, graduation), and arranging details for the Senior Dance, came some unexpected difficulties and extra meetings.

In short these students speak for their fellowmen. Their opinions represent the opinions of the rest of the senior class and their decisions are for the good of the whole.

And so, we thank you President Dick Beard; Vice President Jane Ellison; Secretary Leland Wallace; Treasurer Carl Fritsch; and members Guila Johnson, Everett Sory, Marie Rulfs, Mabel Wilkinson, Wanda Applebee, Joe Monolo and Marian Harkins for your service to the class of '40. Your work is well done!

TO THE MEMORY OF CHARLOTTE HAYZLETT

We dedicate this page to the memory of Charlotte Hayzlett (1922-1939). The work pictured here will stand as a lasting tribute to her interest in art and school activities. She served as co-editor of the art sections of the year book for two years.

Art, however, was not Charlotte's only accomplishment; she excelled in sports, being on the Varsity Hockey Team when she was a freshman and going out for the golf and archery teams.

Charlotte is remembered most by members of the Senior Class for her gay, happy greetings and her cheerful smile.

Joe Monolo — all-star record — Bob Reed.
Virginia Brown — artistic ability — Lesetta Bush.

SENIOR DANCE

Saturday, April thirteenth, marked the last of the social activities of the graduation class — the never-to-be-forgotten Senior Dance. The mood for dancing (to the music of Art Kruth) was created by the romantic garden surrounded by lattice covered walls, and canopied by a sky of blue streamers with silver stars, gaily colored lanterns, and a crescent moon. This was the court presented to the Queen of the 1940 Maple Leaves.

Richard Beard, their ever-dependable class president, announced the procession; and it was heralded by Carolyn Ellison and Marjorie Rose. A path of rose petals was spread by Carolyn Dubry and Julie Harkins for Phyllis Charnock, the retiring queen, who crowned Marian Harkins Queen of the Annual. Marian was attended by Martha LeResche, the freshman maid of honor; Earlene Mueller, the sophomore maid; and Jean Dick-Peddie, the junior maid.

I wish you a lot of success and happiness, Joyce, cause you are one swell girl. Marian

MARIAN HARKINS

SENIOR PLAY

"The show must go on" was apropos of the presentation of "Footloose", the 1940 senior play. Such an attitude was necessary after the director, Mr. Dubry, was called out of town, leaving the cast without a director during the last few rehearsals and the actual performance. However, Miss Carter came to their assistance on the nights of the performance; and because of the fine direction by Mr. Dubry during the first weeks of rehearsal, as well as because of their own ability, the cast was able to "carry on" with the tradition of the stage and give a performance that was both a dramatic and financial success.

The stage furniture was built by George Zurheide and Bob Gillespie. Edwin Hardt, Owen Baker, and William Carrick assisted in the construction. This work was done in the school shop under the supervision of Mr. Gregg.

OUR
Senior Class
AS IT APPEARED IN A NIGHTMARE

BOOK TWO

In a senior class there is often a tendency among its members to cast a shadow of superiority over those following in their footsteps, but we are indeed aware that the future graduates in our high school are upholding a place of honor, and proving that they do so by their own abilities and initiative.

We hope that you, our successors, will profit by our mistakes and experiences, and doing thus, create outstanding personalities as well as elevate the standard of your classes and school.

In the freshman year you are expected to become acquainted with the new environment surrounding you — courses, friends, and school life — and build the reputation you will wish to sustain. As a sophomore you become interested in the various organizations of the school and may become outstanding in extra-curricular activities. The junior year is the high spot of your school life. It is the time for honors and social life ('member the Prom?); and although there are regrets over past failures, it also holds a spear of hope because there is still time to achieve your goal. It is then that you realize that a friendly relationship and democratic spirit among the students is essential.

If you take advantage of all the opportunities offered, you, individually and as a graduating class, will be superior in scholarship, leadership, and character, as well as being ready for the life that confronts you when you leave here.

BOOK THREE

Our field of activities has broadened greatly this year through the zeal and enthusiasm of the students and the wise leadership of the advisors.

The high school has received more recognition and publicity this year than ever before because of honors won by individuals or groups. The first honors of the year were won by our most-publicized football team; and the girls, not be outdone by the boys, played basketball games with the best results in the past few years. The Forensic League, with the characteristic winning spirit of the high school, took first place at the Liberty State Contest. This is a definite indication of greater participation of the students.

Times have been changing so rapidly that the students have found it necessary to develop a well-rounded personality to adjust themselves to the new era. They have learned that the easiest way to develop this new character is to broaden their interests and activities in our school.

As well as having enlarged the traditional activities of M. R. H. (particularly Wrestling), new organizations have been initiated that have brought more varied opportunities to the students. Among them are the Math Club and Rifle Club.

Threatened with the gloomy prospect of joining the ranks of illustrious "has beens", the Chip, Maplewood Richmond Heights High School bi-weekly chronicle, did an "about face" and greeted its 1939-1940 readers in a new and colorful garb.

In no small way responsible for the success which this multipaged, mimeographed Chip enjoyed were the first and second semester Journalism classes under the able direction of Mr. Seubert. Together with the special correspondents, they wrote, edited, typed, stenciled, mimeographed, compiled, and distributed the paper — truly a product of the students themselves.

New features, over and above the mimeographing, were: the illustrated covers, the art page which boasted cartoons and pictures depicting school life, submitted by students; an abundance of cartoons and illustrations accompanying the articles; and the page of original writing, also from student pens.

With an eye to tradition, the Chip sponsored the Christmas basket contest as in previous years.

Dancing to the music of Vincent LaMarr at the "Annual Fling" started the activities of the Annual as well as the school. The presentation of this book to the waiting school concludes all the activities at Maplewood Richmond-Heights High School for the year 1939-1940.

If you had been wandering near the cafeteria after school on the second or fourth Thursday of each month, you would undoubtedly have heard peals of joyous laughter expressing the pleasant time the members of the Girl Reserves Club enjoyed during the season. This year they gave their annual benefit dance at Thanksgiving time, and sponsored a Christmas Play given for the students.

The girls as a group had many enjoyable experiences at their meetings, such as a hobby lobby program, a discussion of student's problems, or outside speakers. Their activities were not confined to the school as they had several hiking and swimming parties. One of the highlights of the year was the annual Mother's Banquet and Recognition Service.

Once again Miss Smith proved herself a very able sponsor and the club owes much of its success to her.

"Boys, if your social life hasn't been up to par this year and you don't know the answer, the Hi-Y is the place for you." The club has enjoyed some unusually fine speakers this year on a subject that lies close to the hearts of all high-school youths —dating and other phases of social life. The program, under the supervision of Mr. Del Pizzo and Mr. Adams, included after school dances, inter-school athletic competition, and group discussions.

Honors! Congratulations! During the past year the number of licensed radio amateurs in Maplewood High School has been doubled—there are two of them now. These are Jack Miller who is W9BPW, and Jay Gooch who has been W9YRV for four years.

The Radio Club has not been very active lately, but it hopes to get on the air more often next year. Anyone who is interested in radio is invited to join. The purpose of the club is to give those who are interested an opportunity to learn more about radio and enjoy the benefits and pleasures of broadcasting.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

With a "meeting please come to order" calculated to silence the most vociferous of talkers, the Girls' Athletic Association meetings on the first and third Thursday of each month are officially opened. This organization, founded in 1924, was created to stimulate sportsmanship and interest and ability in girls' sports. Never at a loss for work to do is the social manager who is kept busy with the Puff Pant Prom, Leap Year Dance, and the Spring Banquet, the social function at which the officers for the coming terms are installed. Under the guidance of Miss Richart, the club sponsors intramural and interschool competition in sports during the year.

In an impressive candlelight ceremony held semi-annually, the Torch sets forth its ideals as it initiates new members. The four principles of the society — scholarship, leadership, character, and service — are stated, as a member lights a candle for each from the large central flame. The emblems of this society are the keystone and the flaming torch, which symbolize the high ideals of the society.

Election to this society is the highest honor which the faculty can bestow upon a junior or senior because other honors recognize only specialized talents while this recognizes the well-rounded individual as possessing the four traits upon which its principles are founded. The obligations of the members of this society are to uphold the honor of school, city, state, and country, and to stand for truth and justice and oppose wrong.

No one could better sponsor this activity than Miss Barkley, who embodies the ideals of the organization.

"I took your Knight!" Don't be alarmed this isn't a battle of love in the Age of Chivalry; it's a chess game in the classroom of Mr. Starrett, the sponsor of the club.

The club is four years old and has been in the Chess League three seasons. The Maplewood Chess Club has played eleven matches this year, with the first team playing nine and winning seven, and the second team winning both games played.

There were eighteen active members this year with the following officers:

President ---------- Dale Hansen
Secretary ---------- Bill Schenler

Row 1: Gorman, D. Hansen, Johansen, Mr. Starrett, W. Schenler, Ryan.

Row 3: Rascher, Jackson, Kuhnhenn, Metz, Osterholt, Ruckle, Hyland, Miles, Bittner, Manwarring.

"Speed! Faster! Watch those curves!" A midget auto race? No, it's the way the slogan of the Greggites developed, "Speed, but watch your curves."

Meetings of the Greggite Club are held twice a month during class periods in which the members try to reach their aim of making the most of their ability as typists and stenographers, to have opportunities for more extended practice in these arts, and to broaden their knowledge and usefulness in things pertaining to business. They also discuss their magazine, "The Gregg Writer", and have many informative talks. This year Miss Richart talked about her trip to Alaska; and Mr. Mahaney, the assistant comptroller of the M.K.T. Railroad spoke on "What every employer expects of his employee." The classes were entertained by a George Washington Party.

Three rousing cheers for the Pep Club which spends its time cheering others! This group of "live wires", in order to improve the spirit and add zest to school life, has entered into many activities such as pep assemblies, cheering at games, and selling home made candy. Lavoisier Chapter in the Junior Academy of Science

"Ride your Hobbies," says an author. So the Lens of Science Club illustrates in our school a first class example of hobby work as well as interest in various phases of science.

William Hellwege represented the chapter on the program at a Junior Academy of Science meeting at Southwest High School, February twenty-ninth, by presenting before the Academy a paper on "Plastics". On April sixth, participating at the annual Academy exhibit at Washington University, the chapter had a very fine display of biological and physical sciences. Publicity was received by the Chapter when three of its exhibits were pictured in the three St. Louis newspapers. A week later the Chapter took part in an exhibit at Stix, Baer and Fuller sponsored by the same for the J. A. S., April 12-20.

Champion of forensics over the entire state, the Rostrum enjoyed this year its most successful season. During the earlier months many practice debates and speech tournaments were held as preparation for the State Tournament.

Maplewood sent the following representatives to the Missouri State Debater's Assembly held in Columbia, Missouri: James Jenkins, Richard Heilbron, Bryce Hutchison, Lee Wallace, and Robert Echols.

Ten Rostrum members attended the annual Missouri State Speech Contest, held this year at William Jewell College, Liberty, Missouri. Richard Heilbron won first place in extemporaneous speaking and James Jenkins won second place; Bryce Hutchison first place in oratory and Edward Garnholz third in oratory; Edward Garnholz second place in original oratory; and Winifred Lane sixth place in dramatic declamation. John Krato also represented Maplewood in original oratory, Dorothea White in dramatic declamation, and Gloria Partney in humorous declamation. Bryce Hutchison, James Jenkins, Edward Garnholz, and Richard Heilbron represented Maplewood at the National Speech Tournament at Terre Haute, Indiana.

The "Math Club" was started at the suggestion of Mrs. Dana to further the appreciation of knowledge and beauty of one of the foremost sciences, mathematics. Senior math students and selected junior math students are the only persons eligible for the club.

Many unusual facts are learned from the talks given by the members, from articles read from books and papers, and from outside speakers. All these help to make up the interesting programs given to the club bimonthly.

Officers are selected every semester. Bryce Hutchison was the first President; Frank Wherry, Vice President; and Maybelle Reader, Secretary. For the second semester William Carrick was President; Tom Gaughan, Vice President; and Grace Sallwasser, Secretary.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Ma, mé, mi, mo, mu; la, la, la; ah-h-h-h-h; scales, trills, and runs! This demonstrates the skillful manner in which Miss Zahn trains the girls of the Glee Club to relax their voices and obtain lovely tone quality.

The club very ably displayed their talents at the annual concert by the vocal department on March fifteenth and made splendid showings at the contests held at University City and Columbia, Missouri. Not only was the Glee Club as a whole very outstanding, but the girls' octette, quartette, and trio added an exceptionally fine touch to a splendid group and ably represented our school in county and state musical festivals.

BAND

Are you looking for a chance for self expression? Then how about trying the comforting sensation of a band instrument in your hands with the opportunity "to blow"!

The band is organized on a democratic basis, being governed by constitutional by-laws and an executive committee. Under the direction of Mr. Best and his assistant, Mr. Rosevear, it occupies a prominent position in our school life by stimulating a proper spirit and adding color to competitive sports. This organization participated in the Missouri State Music Contest at the University of Missouri, and in the celebration of National Music Week. Its first annual concert was given in March, and it received high commendation at the Saint Louis County Festival.

Shrill trebles, deep basso, rumbling and pounding — Give me A! A-A-A- That's sharp — flat —. Middle C. It isn't confusion; it's the orchestra tuning up.

Under Miss Zahn's direction, the Orchestra in its second year has increased its membership as well as its skill and technique and now has a total of forty-two members. The excellent manner in which these young musicians have worked together and the interest shown have been reflected in their contributions in assemblies. The most outstanding performance of the year was the concert given during National Music Week.

ADVANCED A CAPPELLA

By saving pennies and by a concert given on March fifteenth, the A Cappella Choir made enough money to buy their new blue and white robes. These robes put the finishing touches on the Choir, with which Mr. Best and Miss Zahn have worked until it has gained excellent ratings at both the county contest at University City and the state contest at Columbia, Missouri.

Besides the concert on March fifteenth, the Choir gave a cantata at Christmas time and have performed at various other functions.

SECOND A CAPPELLA

Following in the footsteps of the advanced group is our new Second A Cappella, which, under the direction of Miss Zahn, has made strides this year. This organization serves mainly as a stepping stone to higher things, although it also receives merit on its own intrinsic value. The first performance of the choir on March fifteenth at the concert given by the Vocal Department showed that although its members wear the former robes of the Advanced A Cappella, their music has a sterling ring. Hearty congratulations to our newly-formed choir!

BOOK FOUR

Newspaper articles, sport commentators, and fans have praised the athletic skill of Maplewood Richmond-Heights High School. Through the spirit of the individual teams backed by the support of the ever-loyal student body and the zealous training of their coaches, a winning streak has prevailed throughout the year.

There has been a democratic fellowship on the teams that has led each individual to fight for the glory of his team instead of personal honor. We remember the feverish excitement throughout the football game with C.B.C. when Maplewood lagged behind in the first half only to come out with a final winning score of 25 to 14. And relive the basketball game with Kirkwood in which the score was so close throughout, that spectators sat breathlessly on the edge of their seats. And so it is with considerable pride that we present our athletic teams in the following pages.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Despite all pre-season comment to the contrary, the Maplewood Blue Devils have this year produced a champion team. Undefeated, and held to a tie only once, the team marched to a triumph equaled only in 1936. The fleetness of the running backs linked with the passing accuracy of our "second Paul Christman" overcame whatever handicap the lightness of the squad may have produced. Every one of the fighting eleven battled for and with the team instead of for individual honor, thus enabling the team to achieve glory. Joe Flavin, passing back; Everett Sory, receiving end; Joe Monolo, running ace; and "Pete" Wismann, snapping center, received honors on county and district all-star teams.

Many members of the team who experienced regular play during the season will be with us next year — high hopes for a perfect 1940 season!

FOOTBALL "B" SQUAD

Our varsity should not take all the honors in football this year. With a record of four victories and one defeat, we have something to be proud of in our Junior Team.

Under the able coaching of Mr. Rath, such boys as Harold Gracey, Harry Whitworth, Gene Wishnuff, and Bill Dolan (in the backfield) and Jay Doyle Gooch, Bill Duwe, and Woodbury Twitchell (on the line) became outstanding for their playing. A good "B" team like this usually means a good varsity in the near future. At the end of the season Harry Whitworth and Woodbury Twitchell were elected honorary co-captains by their team mates.

"A" BASKETBALL

A pause — the mad scrambling of feet — swish — the referee's whistle — another basket for the Blue Devils! The Blue Devils made a fine showing in the County League this season by tying for second place, and placing two men on the County All-Star Team. They were Ross Nagel first string center, and Bobby Wolf, second string guard. Other dependable players were Howard Sanders, forward; Lefty Sory, forward; Frank Henley, guard, and "Butch" Doyle, an outstanding guard, who was lost to the team in mid-year graduation.

Lettermen returning are: Sanders, Nagel, Watzig, Fink, and Recsnik.

Row 1: Fink, Monolo, Doyle, Henley, Wolf.
Row 2: Beard, Sory, Nagel, Sanders, Recsnik.

Building material for the varsity! That is Coach Rath's task, and he carries it out to the last man. Besides gaining valuable experience, the boys learn to cooperate as a team. Outstanding players are Glenwood Parker, forward; Chris Oelze, forward; and Bob Reed, guard. Other lettermen: Elmer Wind, Jack Miller, Harold Dodge, Russell Tice, "Babe" Barnes, Bill Dolan, and Jack Fritsch. Lettermen returning: Jack Fritsch and "Babe" Barnes, who will serve as the nucleus of next year's "Five".

Row 1: Wright, Miller, Reed, Wind, Mr. Rath.
Row 2: Barnes, Parker, Dodge, Oelze, Tice, Dolan.

SENIOR TRACK

Although the squad was this year somewhat unbalanced in the distribution of men in the various events, it came through with flying colors. However, most of the material Mr. Rath had to work with proved to be excellent.

Not only did these Blue Devil tracksters start the season with victories over Southwest and Normandy, but also they broke several records in those early meets. Some of the other early marks, although not record making or breaking, were unusually good.

Many experienced runners and jumpers were again fighting for their Alma Mater while helping train some of the younger and unseasoned boys. Those fellows who practiced through the three weeks of pre-season training, in spite of King Winter's unfriendly, inconsiderate cold, proved to be the ones who came through in the pinches. At times, the weather was so bitter that it was necessary to keep the squad indoors.

A good living example of the high-running team spirit was shown by Ed Watzig, who, after pulling a muscle in practice, not only participated in several events, but succeeded in "sewing up" the results of the Southwest meet.

Row 1: Ostrander, Duncan, Carter, Pollard, Flavin, Sory, Nagel, Watzig.
Row 2: Mr. Rath, Beard, Griebel, Elliott, Kemmerer, Bosworth, Gooch, Carrick, Bean, Mgr.
Row 3: Miller, Mgr., Stueck, Reed, Byrnes, Mgr., Georgi, Gilbert, Hutchison, Dolan, Mgr.

Also setting early records, braving the cold, and raising a high team spirit, the Junior Track Team marched triumphantly down "cinder lane" 'neath the Blue and the White.

There were not as many of the younger boys out this year as in years past, but nevertheless, the outlook for teams of following years is bright. They were right with the Seniors in their first victories, defeating both Southwest and Normandy with ease.

Some of the most outstanding members of the squad were: Madill Gartiser, Ollie Crosby, Ben Bosworth, and Don Jones.

Row 1: Miller, Buchanan, Sanders, Frahm, Twitchell, Dolan, Doyle.
Row 2: Adams, Stapf, Miler, Oelze, Gartizer, Sparks, Barnes, Crews, Andris, Bean, Mgr. Dodge.
Row 3: Mr. Rath, Watzig, Bosworth, Seidl, C. Jones, Duwe, Jordon, Hutchison, Crosby, Mitchell, Mutrux, Shaw.
Row 4: Spicer, Weber, Meyer, Ecoff, Hoffman, Allan, Gorman, Croy, Kurtz, Worsham, D. Jones, Hess, Fritsch, Harmon.

"M" CLUB

Who are the general nuisances of M.R.H.? Our heroes, those muscle men of the "M" Club, M.R.H.'s honorary athletic organization. This organization under the direction of Mr. Wagner, until his promotion to Grinnell College, was organized in 1934-35. Its chief aim is to encourage the younger sportsmen and promote cooperation in sports and friendliness among the school athletes. The club, which meets once every month, sponsors the annual Football Dance and various other social gatherings during the year.

To attain membership in the "M" Club one must have earned at least one major letter in either football, basketball, baseball, track, wrestling, golf, or other sports.

Row 1: Dapron, Irvine, Jekel, Moessmer, Flavin, Hutchison, Watzig.
Row 2: Mr. Douglas, Badock, Sory, Nagel, Long, Carter, Wolf, Mr. Wagner.
Row 3: Phelan, Beard, Henley, Frahm, Doyle, Wismann, Monolo, Reed.

Third place in state the first year! Second place the second year! That is the record of the M.R.H. wrestling team. With a full team at Columbia this year, the Maplewood grapplers came home with placements in eight out of nine weights.

It is interesting to note that the team as a whole averaged B- scholastically, so that they have both brains and brawn. This accounts for the fact that, although mostly newcomers, they were very apt pupils in learning holds.

As far as matches are concerned, the team came through with a record of eleven victories and four defeats. Under the able coaching of Mr. Del Pizzo they won against the strongest teams in the state.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

Watch that ball! Take it on down! A goal for Maplewood's Hockey team! The season opened this year with more enthusiasm than ever before. Miss Richart was the instructor, and her watchfulness and direction turned out a superb Varsity team. The team played many games; and with the outstanding playing of Jean Bugg, Jane Ellison, Evelyn Goller, Chris Ellison, Agnes Schulz, and others, brought victories out of these games. This sport is very strenuous and exciting and greatly enjoyed by all who participate in it.

Row 1: Catlett, Miss Richart, Walker, Peck.
Row 2: Johns, O'Loughlin, Gray, Goller, Woolston.
Row 3: Voigt, Heideman, Bugg, Ellison, Broderick, Gillis.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Boys are not the only ones who can play basketball and win second rating. The Girls' team also crowned the school with glory by taking second place in the district girls' basketball tournament. Although the girls seemed anything but championship material at first, the varsity ended with a whirlwind finish. This was accomplished through hard work, much practice, and the girls' fine cooperative spirit with their able coach, Miss Richart.

Basketball is the favorite girls' sport at M.R.H. and is enthusiastically supported by all. The playing ability of Captain Jean Bugg, Evelyn Goller, Agnes Schulz, Jane Ellison, Wanda Applebee, Martha Mae Jackson, Maybelle Reader, Lois Kennedy, Ruth Applebee, Virginia Summers, and Chris Ellison made the season highly successful.

Row 1: R. Applebee, Miss Richart, Bugg, Ellison.
Row 2: W. Applebee, Reeder, Jackson, Goller, Summers, Kennedy.

BOOK FIVE

What cards were up your sleeve
Dear old Alma Mammy?
(And now a sigh we heave,
As we eat our bread and salami,)
Three queens and a flock of aces!
Come tell me, what's your game?
You can go to the Tahities
But we'll still get wind of your fame
Though you're buried in peaches and Wheaties.

Three queens and a flock of maids
But really Amazons we're not —
We've got a King and Royal aids
And all such Courtly rot.

The jesting Jacks and gallant Dons
To do your Royal will
And all the shots are candid ones
Though oftener good than ill.

So turn the deck as you will
Yet there's never but one Ace
And fun and frolic present still
And Luck to save our face.

—Lesetta Bush.

FEATURE SECTION

JUNIOR PROM

A new world confronted those who stepped into the gymnasium on the night of February the tenth . . . a world of hearts and balloons and floating streamers in red and white. It was the occasion in which all did homage to a new queen . . . a Queen of Hearts selected by the junior class.

Through a large heart at one end of the hall stepped the queens and maids of the formal procession to the regal strains of "Pomp and Circumstance". They were announced by Jim Stertz, president of the junior class, and heralded by Marjorie Rose and Carolyn Ellison. Jane Ellison, the reigning queen, was crowned by Alyce Ray, retiring queen, who led the procession. There followed, in turn, ten ribbon bearers, who formed an aisle with white ribbons, and two garland bearers, who carried an arch of flowers under which the rest of the procession marched. Two senior maids and six junior maids also attended the queen. Ferdinand Del Pizzo Jr. was the crown bearer, and the two flower girls, Carolyn Dubry and Martha Lou Naigler, sprinkled the aisle with rose petals.

SENIOR MAIDS: Marie Rulfs and Mary Lee Catlett.

JUNIOR MAIDS: Jean Dick-Peddie, Geraldine Lloyd, Bette Maddox, Gloria Peck, Virginia Summers, Alberta Wehrli.

GARLAND BEARERS: Christine Ellison and Winifred Lane.

RIBBON BEARERS: Lois Crouch, Ruth Applebee, Eileen King, Wilma Schute, Doris Gray, June Rose, Maxine Stephens, Mary Jane Kyhl, Jane Dinsmore, and Eloise Cole.

FOOTBALL DANCE

With our "champs" as hosts, the football dance, always a gay affair was unsurpassingly so this year. December tenth, in a court resplendent with blue and white, Emily O'Loughlin was crowned "Gridiron Queen" by Mary Lee Catlett, retiring queen, in a ceremony of pomp and dignity as has been the custom for lo! these many years. Attended by Jane Ellison, Mary Gillis, and Gloria Peck, the queen was paid homage by the football players as they advanced toward the throne. Later, those present swung efficient toes to the melodious strains of the popular Art Kruth Band.

What Can You Do?

In applying for a position, your employer will be sure to ask this question. For instance:

Can you type accurately and with good speed?

Can you take dictation rapidly and transcribe your notes with ease and speed?

Can you operate a Comptometer?

Can you transcribe from the Ediphone?

Can you really keep partnership or corporation books?

Are you neat in your penmanship?

Are you familiar with postal rules and regulations?

Do you know how to handle the telephone?

In meeting strangers and visitors, are you at home and natural?

Do you like to work with people and do you find it easy to get along with them?

Why do so many young people fail to succeed in life? One of our greatest psychologists, Professor James, states the reason so many young people fail in life is because they have no definite aim. They do not know, themselves, what they want. Consequently, they are drifting, getting nowhere.

A complete business training in secretarial work, practical bookkeeping, office machines, and accounting will qualify you to fill a great many positions, especially as a bookkeeper, stenographer-bookkeeper, stenographer, or secretary.

We extend to the Maplewood High School 1940 graduates and their parents a most cordial invitation to visit the Mound City College before enrolling.

Work and Attend School at the Same Time.
